

The University of Music and Performing Arts Graz (Austria), Department of Gender Studies (Zentrum für Genderforschung, ZfG), seeks to appoint from the nearest possible date for five years a

Senior Scientist Post Doc (50%), musicology and/or theatre studies in line with § 26 of the “Kollektivvertrag für die Arbeitnehmer/Innen der Universitäten” in Austria. The minimum salary per month is at present 1.874 € (14 times p.a.). Relevant work experience can result in a higher salary.

General requirement for hiring

- PhD in musicology and/or theatre studies
- excellent qualification in musicology and/or theatre studies
- academic background in research related to gender studies, music and/or theatre
- research experience

Special requirements for hiring

- focus on gender studies in musicology and/or theatre studies (and research program)
- prepared to participate in activities of the department of gender studies (Zentrum für Genderforschung) at the University (in line with the Statuten), see <http://genderforschung.kug.ac.at/>
- teaching experience

Suitable candidates are invited to apply in writing by mentioning GZ 21/13 in the cover letter, to: Personalservice der Universität für Musik und darstellende Kunst Graz, Leonhardstraße 15, 8010 Graz, Austria. Application materials must include CV, certificates of academic degrees, and a short description of a research program.

March 26, 2013

Informal enquiries may be made to PD Dr. Christa Brüstle, Head of the Zentrum für Genderforschung, by e-mail: christa.bruestle@kug.ac.at.

Equality of opportunity is University policy. The University aims to increase the representation of women among faculty. In case of equal qualification of candidates, a female candidate will be preferred. If equally qualified, candidates with special needs will be preferred.

Costs of travel and accommodation arising for attendance at the job interviews cannot be reimbursed.

Robert Höldrich
Deputy Rector of the University